Pup Profile

Keeping your Dog

- We are sympathetic to the hardships of life and we hope that you never feel the need to consider giving up your furry friend. Rescues are at capacity and euthanasia rates at shelters are at an all time high.

- Resources and support options are available for pet owners who are struggling. The websites listed below have options for low cost veterinary care, food, training, and other support options.

FACE Foundation:
https://face4pets.org/apply-for-assistance/

Dog Coalition Los Angeles:
https://dogcoalitionla.org/community-resouces

Mary S. Roberts Pet Adoption Center (Riverside)
https://www.petsadoption.com/index.php/services-main/relinquish-rehome-your-pet

San Diego Humane Society:
https://www.sdhumane.org/services/support-services/
https://www.sdhumane.org/services/give-up-a-pet/

Helen Woodard Animal Center:
https://animalcenter.org/programs-services/pets-without-walls/

San Diego Animal Support Foundation:
http://www.sdshelters.com/assistance.html

Free Animal Doctor (Create a Campaign):
https://freeanimaldoctor.org/

"10 Organizations that will pay your vet bills"
https://www.instagram.com/p/CmrkjDDp8Fw/?igshid=MzRlODBiNWFlZA%3D%3D&img_index=1

Lucy's Website - Pet Resources
https://lucyro.weebly.com/pet-resources.html

CAMP LA: https://www.campla.org

This is a limited list of resources in Southern California. There are many alternatives to surrendering your pet to a shelter. Please take the time to explore your options. Shelters are not a safe place for your pet.